An American corporation established in Paraguay is reported to have produced over 13,000,000 pounds of quebracho extract in 1919 at its plant located at Puerto Pinasco. Almost the mitre supply was exported to the United States.

Ganada's total trade with the West Indies during 1920 was greater by 35 per cent than that for 1919, the value being reckened at approximately $29,-550,000. Canadian trade with Cuba increased by 225 per cent during the year, amounting to $40,750,000, the increase being due to heavy imports and the high price of sugar.

Strong opposition is voiced by shipping men here to the proposal to make a drastic cut, in the appropriation for the State Nautical School. Considering the great benefits derived by the state from the position of New York as the leading American port, they say, the annual expenditure on the school is well justified.

Organization Will Try to Promote Better Feeling Between United States CHERBOURG and South America

For the purpose of promoting beter understanding between the people of the United States and South America, "along cultural and social rather than along commercial and material tines," a meeting was held yesterday at the Pennsylvania Hotel, with John Barrett an sponsor for the general

he took up with a small group of representative men in the United States and South America the question of forming an organization, with branches in each of the twenty-one American re-publics, to be known as an unofficial Pan-American Association, or League of the American Peoples. The plan is based upon Mr. Barrett's observations during twenty years of official experi-ence in pan-American affairs as for-mer director general of the Pan-Amer-ican Union and United States Minister in Latin America in Latin America.

"The organization contemplates coordination and cooperation, free from political and governmental control and omplish for pan-American and inter-American friendship what great finan-cial combinations achieve for com-merce and trade. As a result of the first conference, it has been decided probable membership and also of or-ganization expenses, which will be met solely by philanthropic contributions of those interested and by small dues."

Mr. Barrett said that more than 60 per cent of some 10,000 persons throughout the Americas who had been approached on the subject had responded approvingly. It was pointed out that the proposed organization will in no way interfere with the officia Pan-American Union, in Washington or the unofficial Pan-American Society of the United States, in New York.
